

HEATHER WILBERGER

Chief Information Officer

Heather Wilberger is Bedrock's first Chief Information Officer, responsible for overseeing and managing the information technology team and all strategic technology acquisitions for the company. Since its founding, Bedrock and its affiliates have invested and committed more than $5.6 billion to acquiring and developing more than 100 properties, including new construction of ground up developments in downtown Detroit and Cleveland totaling more than 20 million square feet.

Heather brings to Bedrock more than 15 years of experience in information technology, both in the public and private sectors.

Her specialties include minimizing redundancies, designing, implementing and managing networks and software as it relates to property management, acquisitions and development. Before coming to Bedrock, the newly minted Michigan resident was most recently the CIO for a large-scale residential and commercial property management firm on the West Coast.
